A meeting of the general committee to arrange a program for the annual state convention of the grand lodge of Old Fellows, which is to meet in this city, May 18 to 21, was held last evening. It is probable that Bissonette, the French wrestler coming here next Friday night with the Italian wrestler, Perelli, will have a chance to show his speed in a bout with Bob Ewen, the Barre wrestler. Mr. Ewen said to-day that he would meet him. It will be up to Mr. Bissonette when he arrives to make good his statement to meet all comers. He will surely have a hard nut to crack in the Scotch heavyweight.

As a Graniteville man and his family were about to take the 11:50 Central Vermont train last night to go to New London, Conn., to reside, the head of the family seemed very surprised when Officer Cutler of South Barre halted him and inquired if he did not owe a rent bill to the owner of the house where he had been living on the "hill." It did not take the Graniteville man long to remember that the bill had slipped his mind and he forthwith paid it over to the officer after his creditor, who was with the officer, had refused to take it. The man then quickly clambered aboard the train with his family.

To us of the East from childhood to old age there is a peculiar fascination in the story, picture, play, or anything that pertains to the West. That vast area beyond the Mississippi which not so long ago was the great wilderness of the New World, has in the last sixty years been the setting for more strenuous human endeavors than any other section of the globe. In that land and in that period lives have been given up in the most free manner, hearts have been broken, fortunes have been won and lost, and the great modern civilization which blooms to-day has arisen from the dead ashes of a million heroes. A vivid and truthful portrayal of the days of the frontiers, those sturdy pioneers of the land of promise, is "Out in Idaho," which will be presented at the opera house next Saturday evening.
